

BuzziPlanter

An Uber Utilitarian Biophilic Partition for the Office and Beyond

Introduction

BuzziPlanter is a multi-purpose solution for the office with its acoustical, partitioning, and biophilic properties. Pot your favorite plants to boost office creativity and focus with BuzziPlanter!

The Story

Meet BuzziPlanter, a collection of planters for a range of contract environments. Minimalistic in appearance but full of personality, the planter fully embodies the methodology of biophilic design by including elements of nature in the space, reinforcing BuzziSpace's core mission to help create happier and healthier workspaces.

The pot is powered by a thick layer of high-density foam and finished off with an additional layer of fabric to optimally absorb excessive noise from air conditioning, speech and high-pitch sounds coming from ringtones, coffee machine. Thus, BuzziPlanter is an ideal choice to create microenvironments in communal workspaces with its acoustical properties, encouraging concentration and relaxation. For an added value, this acoustic office divider also helps define and divide spaces – a feature extremely desirable in today's open-office layouts.

BuzziPlanter comes in six different sizes and can be upholstered in a wide variety of colorways to further spark joy and liveliness. Pick one or group a few together to suit a range of interior needs.
