Helping companies improve their work environment, offering interior solutions, increasing performance results.

March 5, 2019, Christina was Sang Il's mentor

It is my pleasure to give my impression about Sang's work. I found his products clear and concise and with much personality and wit which reflects a creators character and can not be thought but is an innate value. Adding intelligent humour to design makes it stand out, it becomes ones personal expression, something invaluable in a homogenous market full of products similar to one another. I wish you, Sang all the very best of success, may your dreams come true, may you make the world smile, every little smile counts.
